写在前面

同学们，“写在前面”，是想告诉你们，作为编写者，我们为你们初中阶段的英语学习准备了些什么：

首先，我们想努力为你们打开一扇窗户，一扇能看见域外风景的窗户。在世界已然成了地球村的今天，这扇窗户将是你们生存、成长的基本条件之一。通过它，你们能看到不同国家、民族厚重的历史和生动的当前；同时感受到窗外对曾经古老又正在崛起的东方文明的窥探和向往。我们希望你们藉此而早早生成一种宽广的学习情怀——在东西方文化中汲取精华，丰富自己，服务世界！

基于这样一个目标，我们对“听 (Listening)”“说 (Speaking)”“读 (Reading)”“写 (Writing)”部分所需要的载体做了苛刻的遴选。我们选了尽可能多的体裁：海报、故事、日记、博客，以开阔你们的眼界；我们选了尽可能多的题材：生活的、文学的、自然的、情感的、民俗的，以打开你们的视野。在“语法 (Grammar)”部分，我们不生硬地讲解语法规则，而是通过亲切的活动和真实的语境来引导你们自觉归纳语言规则并运用于语言实践中，以领会代替强记，以生动消除枯燥。同时，我们也用心设计了能有助你们心领神会、举一反三的练习，并适时给予你们即学即用的“学习策略 (Strategy)”和“小技巧 (Top tip)”……所有的一切都是为了激起你们更多的学习热情和兴趣，并感受到英语语言学习的鲜活、立体和深刻。

最后想说，摆在你们面前的这套课本是有“深度”的，是经得起“挖掘”的，“补充阅读 (More practice)”和“课题 (Project)”是为同学们的拓展学习准备的；“文化角 (Culture corner)”的外延是无限的，足以引领你们去自主探索语言文化背后的深积淀。

总之，我们盼望你们精神饱满，思维积极，站在英语语言学习这扇通向世界的窗户前“瞭望”。

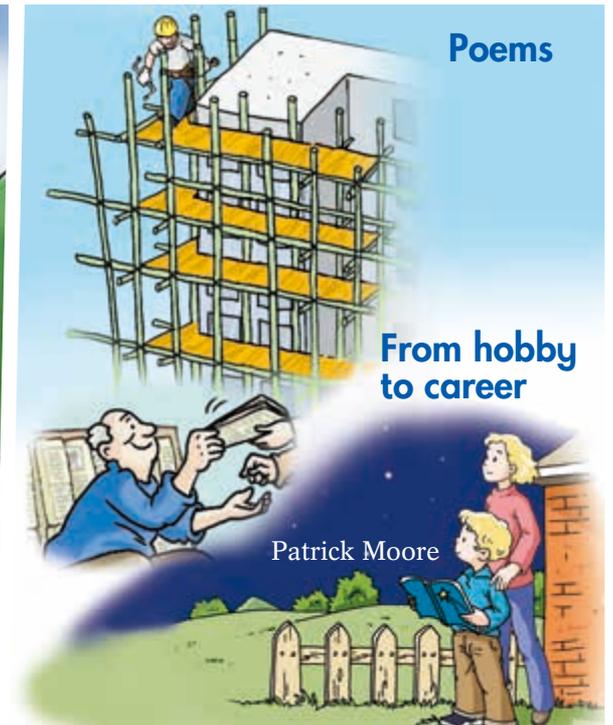

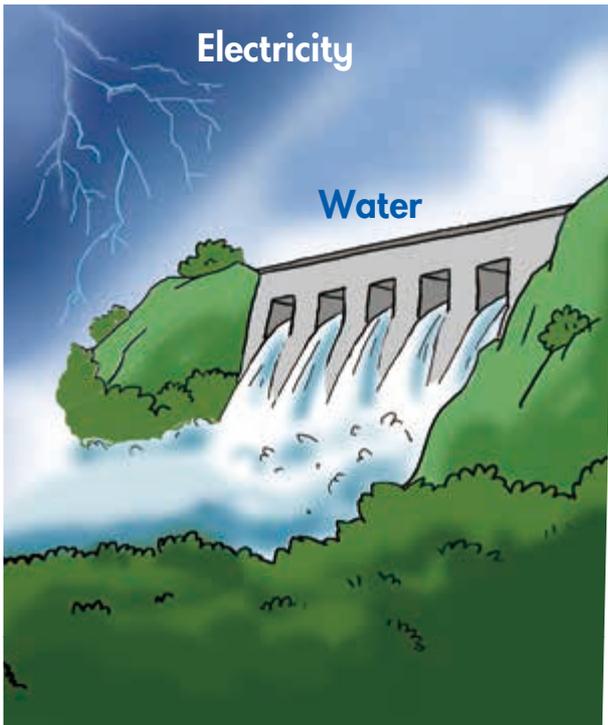

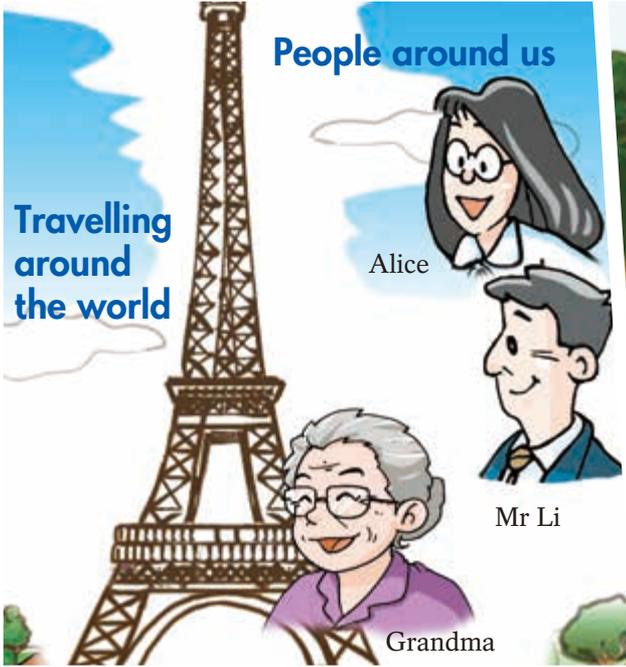

预祝你们学习愉快，学有成效！

Last july, I went to beijing to visit uncle zhang. He took me to many interesting places such as the great wall, the summer palace and the palace museum. I learnt a lot about the ming and the qing dynasties. We also visited the main stadium for the 2008 olympics. We went shopping on wangfujing street. I had a wonderful time in beijing and I plan to visit it again during the spring festival next year.

B Conjunctions: and, but and so

We use the conjunctions and, but and so to link two sentences. They show different relationships between the sentences.

There are many vineyards in the centre of France and farmers grow grapes to make excellent French wine.

A French town by the sea is the perfect place for a summer holiday, but if you prefer to visit France in winter, you can try skiing on the mountains in the French Alps.

France has something for everyone, so why not visit France this year?

Work out the rule

- We use _____ to mean “also”.

A Read the article below about the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Then answer the questions.

The Leaning Tower of Pisa

The Tower of Pisa is one of the most beautiful bell towers in Italy. It is not only beautiful, but also strange—it leans to one side. Today it is known as “the Leaning Tower of Pisa”.

The building of the tower began in 1173. It took nearly 200 years to complete. In 1178, when the building got to the third floor, it started to lean. The builders tried to make the tower straight again when they built the upper floors, but failed.

Over the years, the tower has continued to lean further. Experts have done a lot of studies and tried to “rescue” the tower. In 1990, it was closed to the public for safety reasons. After a lot of effort, it reopened in 2001. Hopefully it will be safe for at least the next 300 years.

- 1 Why is the Tower of Pisa strange?
- 2 How many years did it take to build the tower?
- 3 When did the tower start to lean?
- 4 What do you think will happen to the tower in the future?
Will it be safe?

B In pairs, discuss your favourite place of interest.

Where is it?

What is it famous for?

Why do you like it?

Backpacking

Backpacking is a popular style of travelling. When people go backpacking, they only take a backpack with them. Backpackers usually do not spend too much money on a trip. For example, they would rather take a train than a plane when they go from city to city.

Would you like to go backpacking? What would you put in your backpack?

B Before you read

Look at the photos and the title of the story on page 31. Then answer the questions below.

A blind man and his “eyes” in a fire

One day, John Dancer and Charlie arrived at a hotel.

“Good evening, sir,” said the receptionist. “You’re welcome to stay, but I’m sorry that we
5 don’t allow pets here.”

“Charlie isn’t a pet,” said John. “He’s my eyes. I’m blind and I can’t go anywhere by myself.”

The receptionist apologized
10 and led John and Charlie to their room.

John was very tired. He soon fell asleep. Some time later, Charlie started barking. John 15 woke up and smelt smoke. A fire! Smoke started to come in from under the door. With Charlie’s help, John put some wet towels along the bottom of 20 the door. Then he got down on the floor next to Charlie and waited.

Soon he heard the sound of a fire engine. A fireman arrived 25 and got him out of the building, but the fireman did not want to take Charlie. John would not go without his “eyes”. Finally, the fireman got Charlie out of 30 the building too and they were both safe.

Collocations

Look at the sentences below. Which one do you think is right?

He is seeing television.

He is watching television.

We often use certain words together and we call this collocation. For example, we say “watch television”, not “see television”.

Grammar

A Reflexive pronouns

We use a reflexive pronoun as the object to refer back to the subject of a sentence.

He blames himself for the mistake.
 She made herself a cup of tea.
 We should not think only of ourselves.

We can also use a reflexive pronoun to emphasize that someone does something without help.

He did the homework himself.
 We can clean the kitchen ourselves.

We form reflexive pronouns like this:

Subject pronoun	Reflexive pronoun
I	myself
you (singular)	yourself
you (plural)	yourselves
we	ourselves
they	themselves
he	himself
she	herself
it	itself

Work out the rule

- Singular reflexive pronouns have the ending _____.
- Plural reflexive pronouns have the ending _____.

Look at the pictures below and fill in the blanks with the correct reflexive pronouns.

We made it <sup>(1)</sup> _____! No one helped us.

More practice

A Read Tim's story about how a dolphin saved him. Then put the pictures below in the correct order. Write the numbers 1–6 in the boxes.

A friendly dolphin

Last month, I went to swim in the sea. I swam really far, past the rocks and out to sea.

Then I saw something moving towards me. It was huge and grey, with a large fin. It was a shark! I began to swim back, but the beach was too far away. The shark started to swim around me.

I was really scared. Suddenly another creature appeared next to me in the water. It was a dolphin! It pushed me away from the shark. I sat on its back as it swam towards the beach.

Soon we were near the beach. The shark did not follow us. As soon as I stepped onto the beach, the dolphin swam away. I will always remember how this friendly animal saved my life.

B In pairs, role-play an interview between Tim and a reporter.

What did the shark look like?
How did you feel?

What did you do?
What happened next?

Dog laws

Some countries have laws about dogs. For example, in the UK, all dogs must wear collars (i.e. bands put around their necks) in public places. The collar should show the name and address of the dog's owner. However, some dogs such as guide dogs and rescue dogs, do not have to follow this law.

Do you have a dog? Are there any laws about dogs in your city?

Trees in our daily lives

Rebecca wants to know more about trees and how they help us. She is interviewing Dr Jones about trees.

Rebecca: How do trees help us, Dr Jones?

Dr Jones: They help us in many ways. They keep the air cool and clean. They take in harmful gases from the air and produce oxygen for us to breathe. They're major fighters against air pollution.

Rebecca: I know trees also make our lives more convenient. Many of the things in our daily lives come from trees, for example paper and pencils.

Dr Jones: You're right, Rebecca. In fact, we get a lot more from trees. We get fruit and oil from them. Tea also comes from the leaves of trees.

Look around this room. A lot of the furniture is made of wood. Trees are really important in our daily lives.

Rebecca: I can't imagine a world without trees.

Dr Jones: But we cut down millions of trees every year. We should stop doing this if we don't want a world without trees.

Using suffixes to guess meanings

Look at these two sentences. Do you know the meanings of useful and harmful?

Trees give us a lot of useful things.

Trees take in harmful gases from the air.

Useful and harmful both end in -ful. It is a suffix meaning "full of".

D Comprehension

D1 Read the interview on page 45 and complete the notes below.

- keep the air <sup>(2)</sup> _____ .
- take in <sup>(3)</sup> _____ from the air and produce oxygen.

Trees make our lives <sup>(4)</sup> _____ .

- Many of the things (e.g. paper and pencils) in our daily lives <sup>(5)</sup> _____ .
- We also get fruit, oil and tea from trees.
- A lot of furniture is <sup>(6)</sup> _____ .

Listening

Pine trees

Top tip

When you are listening, pay special attention to the following words. They will help you understand the text.

First(ly), Second(ly), etc.	to introduce a list or a sequence of things
For example, ...	to give an example or examples
However, ...	to give a different idea

Listen to a radio programme about pine trees and complete the notes below. Write one word or figure in each blank.

- We can find pine trees in almost every <sup>(1)</sup> _____ of China.
- People grow pine trees in cities because they are always <sup>(2)</sup> _____ and they make the environment more <sup>(3)</sup> _____.
- Pine trees are very <sup>(4)</sup> _____.

- Pine trees are useful.
  - We use them to make <sup>(7)</sup> _____.
  - We use them in <sup>(8)</sup> _____ medicine to fight against diseases.

Grammar

The present continuous tense

We use the present continuous tense to show that something is happening now.

The children are playing in the park.

We also use the present continuous tense to talk about temporary situations.

We are staying at Peter's house at the moment.

We form the present continuous tense like this:

Subject	Verb to be	Main verb
I	am (not)	dreaming.
You/We/They	are (not)
He/She/It	is (not)

We form Yes/No questions and short answers in the present continuous tense like this:

Am I reading?	Yes, I am .
	No, I am not / 'm not .
Are you/we/they reading?	Yes, you/we/they are .
	No, you/we/they are not/aren't / 're not .
Is he/she/it reading?	Yes, he/she/it is .
	No, he/she/it is not/isn't / 's not .

We form Wh-questions in the present continuous tense like this:

What are you doing now?

Why is he sleeping here?

Work out the rule

We form the present continuous tense with the verb to be + (the base form/the -ing form) of the main verb.

We form the -ing form of the main verb like this:

Main verb	-ing form	Example
Most verbs	+ ing	feel → feeling
Verbs ending in -e	e + ing	write → writing
Verbs ending in -ie	ie + ying	die → dying
Some verbs ending in a vowel letter + a consonant letter	Double the consonant letter + ing	run → running

A Katie is on holiday with her friends. She is telling Alex what everyone is doing. Look at the picture below and complete the conversation with the verbs in brackets.

Katie: Hi, Alex. We <sup>(1)</sup> are having (have) fun at the beach.

A Read the article below about the Amazon rainforest. Then complete the notes.

The Amazon rainforest

The Amazon rainforest in South America is the largest rainforest in the world. It covers five and a half million square kilometres of the Amazon Basin and spreads across nine countries.

The Amazon rainforest is very important because it is home to thousands of animals, birds and insects. However, people are destroying the area by cutting down many of the trees. This is called “deforestation”. Many living things lose their homes because of deforestation. As a result, the number of kinds of animals, birds, insects and trees in the world is decreasing.

We must do our best to protect the Amazon rainforest.

- Groundwater may be drinkable, but it is not easy to find groundwater that is clean and safe to drink.
- If water drips from your tap every 10 seconds, you will waste about 315 litres of water a year—enough to fill two baths!
- Having a bath uses about twice as much water as taking a shower. Having a shower instead of a bath can save up to 400 litres a week.

Daisy: Yes, that's very kind of you, Benny. I'm ready to go. <sup>(5)</sup> _____ you open the door for me?

Benny: Yes, I can.

Daisy: Thanks.

C must and must not

We use must and must not/mustn't to tell people what to do or what not to do.

You must not/mustn't do that, Benny!

We must always be careful with electricity.

They must not/mustn't play near the heater.

Work out the rule

After modal verbs such as can, may and must, we use (the base form/the -ing form/the -ed form) of a verb.

Daisy saw a doctor. The doctor told her what to do and what not to do. Help her write down the doctor's instructions.

drink more water

eat cold food

go out alone

go to bed early

share cups with others

take the medicine on time

Syllables

English words are made up of different parts. These parts are called syllables. All words have one or more syllables, e.g.

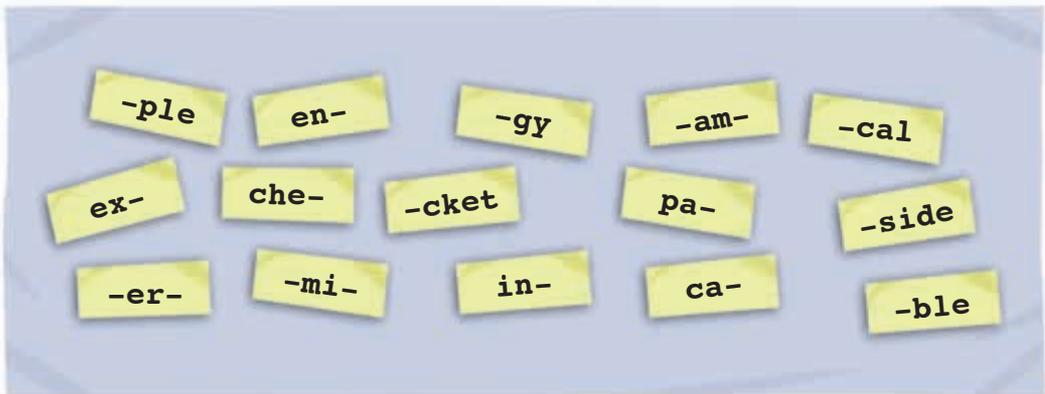

1 syllable	2 syllables	3 syllables	4 syllables	5 syllables
form	coo-ker	com-pu-ter	su-per-mar-ket	e-lec-tri-ci-ty

A syllable usually has a vowel sound. However, the consonant sounds in bold in the following words are separate syllables too.

little	middle	pencil	people	table	uncle
--------	--------	--------	--------	-------	-------

A1 Look at the syllables below. Combine them into words with hyphens (-).

2 syllables	pa-cket
3 syllables	che-mi-cal

A2 Say these words. Then write the number of syllables in brackets.

- |             |       |             |     |
|-------------|-------|-------------|-----|
| 1 newspaper | ( 3 ) | 5 candle    | ( ) |
| 2 hear      | ( )   | 6 dangerous | ( ) |
| 3 able      | ( )   | 7 battery   | ( ) |
| 4 anyone    | ( )   | 8 American  | ( ) |

- Unplug it when you are not using it.

Microwave

- Do not turn it on when it is empty, because it might start a fire.
- Stand at least one metre away from the microwave when it is on.
- Before you put an object in a microwave, make sure it is microwave safe.

Earth Hour

Earth Hour started in 2007 in Sydney, Australia. In that year, 2.2 million people turned their lights off for one hour. They did this to show that they cared about climate change. Since then, people from all over the world do the same on the last Saturday of March every year. More and more countries are joining Earth Hour.

When will the next Earth Hour be? Will you take part in the next Earth Hour? Why?

1 My dad

He comes home, has a shower,
And eats dinner, every day.
Now he's sitting in his favourite chair

- 5 Too tired to laugh or play.
He reads his book or newspaper
To learn what's new today.
Soon he'll go to bed.
He's a boring man, my dad.

- 10 Then I see him working,
On the building site.
He's high up in the clouds
Higher than a kite.
He's walking on a narrow piece of wood
- 15 Not worried about the height,
Not afraid, not afraid like me.
He's a superman, my dad.

2 The old newspaper seller

He's sitting at the newspaper stand

- 20 Near the bus stop,
And he's smiling.
The Sun is shining.
It's very hot.
But he's smiling.
- 25 A bus stops, and the people rush out.
They're hurrying to work.
They don't have much time to smile.

They take their papers quickly,
And put down some money.

- 30 But he's a patient man,
And he's still smiling.
A crowd of people,
All very busy, with tired faces,
And just one smile.
- 35 Is there just one smile in this city?
Or will you make it two?
Let's make a million smiles!

Grammar

A Imperatives

We use imperatives to give orders or advice. There are positive and negative imperatives.

Open the door, Daisy.

Don't open the door, Daisy.

Let's make a million smiles!

Things to remember

We can use please in imperatives. It is more polite.

Please turn off your phone.

Turn off your phone, please.

We need to add be before adjectives when we use them as imperatives.

Be quiet, girls.

Don't be late again.

Work out the rule

- We use the base form of a verb in a (positive/negative) imperative.
- In a (positive/negative) imperative, we use don't before the base form of the verb.

Look at the picture. What will the teacher say? Make sentences with the words from the box on page 95. Some of them must begin with Don't.

bring    close    eat    sleep    speak louder    turn to 1 Bill is eating in class.

Don't eat in class, Bill.

2 Rose left the door open on a windy day.

3 Jane is answering a question in a low voice.

4 James is sleeping at his desk.

5 Steven is looking at page 47. He should look at page 74.

6 Mary brought her pet mouse to school.

B Exclamations

Sometimes we use sentences with emphasis and strong feelings. These sentences are called exclamations.

What + (a/an) + adjective + noun + subject + verb + !

How + adjective/adverb + subject + verb + !

What an interesting poem it is!

What beautiful flowers they are!

What bad weather it is!

How lucky we are!

How quickly the time passed!

How bright the stars are!

What beautiful flowers they are!

We can use a word or phrase as an exclamation, such as Oh no! or Lovely! We can also use a word or phrase with what or how to show strong feelings.

What an interesting poem!

What beautiful flowers!

What bad weather!

How lucky!

How fast!

How bright!

Work out the rule

- We often begin an exclamation with the word _____ or _____.
- We often use “_____” at the end of an exclamation.

B1 Rewrite the sentences below using exclamations with what or how.

1 You are wearing an old shirt.

---

2 The boys are very excited.

---

3 They are friendly people.

---

4 She studies very hard.

---

B2 Lisa and Bob are talking about their friends. Complete their conversation with the exclamations from the box.

How wonderful!

What a lovely baby!

Lisa: Tom won first prize in the speech competition.

Bob: <sup>(1)</sup> _____ He must be very happy.

 And B often leaves his seat.
C likes to clean the blackboard
 And D is always very neat.

- 2 Give your poem a title.

*  More practice

 Read the poem and answer the questions below.

Helping hands

The Sun comes up, I start my day.
I get my broom and I'm on my way.
I clean up things that people drop,
From dawn to dusk, I never stop.
I sweep the streets, and make them clean,
And help keep our city green.

Night is falling, the sky is dark.
The only sounds are dogs that bark.
We drive along the streets all night
To stop thieves and those who fight.
It's a dangerous job, but we're brave.
We help keep our city safe.

- 1 Who are the people in the poem?
- 2 When do they usually start work?
- 3 What do they do for their work?
- 4 What do they think of their work?

A poem about the Moon

Many people like writing poems to show their feelings. Li Bai, a Chinese poet, was one of them. He wrote a famous poem about the Moon.

In the quiet of the night by Li Bai

The Moon, like white silver, shines before my bed.

It looks like frost on the ground.

Lifting my head, I look at the Moon.

Lowering my head, I'm thinking of my home town.

In groups, read the poem aloud together.

B Before you read

Look at the pictures and the title of the article on page 105. Then answer the questions below.

- 1 What is Patrick Moore's hobby?
- 2 What is probably his job now?

My lifetime hobby—studying stars

by Patrick Moore

When I was eight, I got a book about stars. That was the beginning of my lifetime hobby.

I used to go outside with my
5 mum on clear nights and look at the sky. It looked like black velvet with a million diamonds on it. In different seasons, we saw different groups of stars. Sometimes we saw stars shooting 10 brightly across the sky. How beautiful they were!

Studying the stars was great fun for me. Once I learnt a little about them, I soon wanted to find out more and more. Now 15 it is my career. I host a TV programme called The Sky at Night. I use my knowledge to tell people about the stars in a lively way. I am proud of my 20 TV programme—it has lasted for more than 50 years!

Actually, you can turn your hobby into your career too. Anybody can achieve their dreams. You just have to enjoy what you do!

Sarah: Wow, that sounds interesting.

Mike: Yes. The programme was very <sup>(2)</sup> _____. The host has a good <sup>(3)</sup> _____ of stars. <sup>(4)</sup> _____ can learn about stars. We just need to watch the night sky and enjoy ourselves.

Grammar

A Adverbial clauses of time (when)

We can use the conjunction when to form an adverbial clause of time. It links two clauses into one sentence.

When I was eight, I got a book about stars.

When the girl got older, she sailed the boat herself.

Things to remember

We can also use before, after, while, as soon as and until to form adverbial clauses of time.

We can put an adverbial clause of time at the beginning or the end of a sentence.

Work out the rule

When we use the conjunction when to link two clauses, we tell people that the two actions happen at (the same time/different times).

Match the clauses in column A with those in column B to make complete sentences with when. Then rewrite each sentence with the adverbial clause at the beginning.

A		B
1 She always brings a present	when	a he was ill.
2 He sits on the floor		b she goes shopping.
3 He stayed in bed		c she visits her friends.
4 She takes a basket		d he watches TV.

1 She always brings a present when she visits her friends.

When she visits her friends, she always brings a present.

B used to/did not use to

We use used to to talk about something we often did in the past. Its negative form is did not use to/didn't use to.

I used to go outside with my mum on clear nights and look at the sky.

When did her dad use to take them for trips on his boat?

I didn't use to have much money.

Things to remember

Used to is a modal verb. Other examples of modal verbs are can, may and must. Do not confuse used to with the main verb use.

He used to look at the stars every night, but now he does not.

He used his knowledge to tell people about the stars in a lively way.

Work out the rule

We use (the simple past tense/the base form) of the main verb after used to.

Look at the pictures of Mike at primary school and Mike now. What did he use to do and what does he do now? Use the example below to help you.

1

go/Dongfeng Road
Primary School

go/No. 5 Junior High School

Mike used to go to Dongfeng Road Primary School.

Now he goes to No. 5 Junior High School.

2

go to bed/9 p.m.

go to bed/10 p.m.

3

not enjoy/swimming

go/swimming/every week

4

be shy

enjoy/talk/people

Speaking

A Talk time

Stress in nouns and verbs

We can use some two-syllable words as both nouns and verbs. As nouns, the stress is on the first syllable. As verbs, the stress is on the second syllable.

A1 Say these nouns and verbs in pairs. Stress the underlined syllables.

Nouns: increase   present   progress   project
Verbs: increase   present   progress   project

A2 Read this conversation aloud. Underline the stressed syllable in each of the words in italics.

Mary: Thanks for the book, Jack. It's a nice present. It'll be really useful for my school project on stars.

Jack: I'm sure your understanding of the stars will increase. By the way, how's your project?

Mary: I'm making good progress. I'll present it next week.

B Speak up

In pairs, talk about what job to do in the future. Follow the example.

learning English/English teacher making model trains/train driver playing with animals/zoo keeper

S1: What would you like to do in the future?

S2: I don't know.

S1: Well, what do you enjoy doing in your free time?

S2: I like playing sport.

S1: Maybe you could become a PE teacher.

S2: That's a good idea.

A Read this article about Jane Goodall and then answer the following questions.

Never give up

Jane was not very interested in animals when she was a child. Then, one day, her father gave her a toy chimpanzee. From that day on, she became really interested in animals.

When she was a 16-year-old schoolgirl, Jane dreamt of a career studying wild animals in Africa.

Jane's mother said, "If you really want something, work hard and never give up. Then you'll find a way."

Jane's mother was right. When she was 26, Jane travelled from Britain to the mountains of East Africa. She studied chimpanzees. She watched the animals for a long time and they became her friends. Jane discovered that these animals greet one another with a kiss or a hug, and make and use tools—just like humans do.

Jane Goodall is now well known all over the world. She made her dreams come true because she never gave up!

- 1 Was Jane always interested in animals?
- 2 How did Jane learn so much about the chimpanzees in East Africa?
- 3 How did Jane make her dreams come true?

B In pairs, discuss what you need to turn your hobby into a career.
